EQUIPMENT FOUNDATION SOLUTIONS — Truly superior solutions providing cost-effective outcomes with far less stress and risk

Dynamic equipment and machinery with reciprocating, rotating, impulsive, or impact aspects require a monolithic structure to resist forces and vibrations. Epoxy grout is the critical component of the foundation system that enables the transfer of energy from the equipment to the foundation and sub-soil, ensuring your machinery is stable and secure during installation. Our goal is to provide specialized products for equipment foundations and guide the installation of machinery and equipment properly, efficiently, and successfully for our clients. Our offerings meet ANSI, ASME, and PIP standards, resist corrosion, and improve the damping ratio compared to steel, cast iron, & granite.
